The Recent Sterm. A Fatal Sheetlest affray at Cape Charles City. Bad Beath.
[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
OMARCOCK, January 12, 1886.
The starm here last Friday night is mid to have been the severest since the celebrated gale of October, 1878. The wind was accompanied by a heavy rainfall, but no snow. Fences and slight enthouses were overturned on land, while vessels were roughly tossed about on the adjacent waters. Several schooners were driven ashore on Tangier beach, and many yawl-boats were lost, but no serious damage appears to have been done in this section. Ever since the erious damage appears to have been one in this section. Ever since the done in this section. Ever since the atorm the weather has been getting colder, the thermometer being lower then it has been for many years.

News comes from Cape Charles City, in Northampton county, of a fatal shooting affray there several days ago. It seems that a party of negroes—employees on the railroad—were in a room arraying themselves for a country frelic, when some of them began to tease one of their number, named William Jones. Jones took out a pistol, hiam Jones. Jones took out a pistol, and threatened to shoot if they did not leave him alone. They persisted in teasing him till he fired upon them, shooting and killing a young negro boy named Levin Fitchett. The negro made good his escape, and has not yet been captured.

customs has been moved from Acco mack Courthouse back to Onancock where it ought to be and always had been till it pleased General Mahone to have it moved from here several years ogo to accommodate the man whom he ad named for collector of this port. The collector of customs, the superintendent of the life-saving station for the Fifth district, and the commander of the United States revenue marine for this district, all have their headquarters in Onancock now.

Mr. Edward S. Melson, a deserving young man, died at his home near here several days ago of pneumonia, leaving a bereaved young wife, to whom he had been married only a few weeks.

NORFOLK, January 13, 1886. A Boston man named Stephenson who was with a gunning club in Curri tuck Sound, was frozen to death on Sunday night while out in a skiff shooting ducks. The boat and body were picked up near Life-Saving Station No. 7, the man sitting upright with his gun across his knees.

The freeze continues here to-day, the ice in the docks being six inches thick and two or three inches all the way across. The ferry-boats and other vessels in the harbor experience considerable difficulty running. Skaters are venturing on the river shoals. All navigation on the canals is closed.

The schooner A. S. Conant, blown ashore at Atlantic City last Friday night, has been hauled off not much damaged. Norfolk county is making large appropriations for roads just now, and proposes with the $100,000 from the sale of the ferry to build a new courthouse, new almshouse, new jail, and make other improvements. The Gosport cotton-docks, a portion of the assets of the Exchange Bank, will shortly be put up for sale as an entirety. The property is valued at over $600,000.

Several northern yachts are in the harbor-one of them the steam yacht Gleam, belonging to Mr. Robert Garrett,

At a meeting of substantial citizens held last night to discuss the question of establishing a national bank here the sum of $56,000 was subscribed to the capital stock, and committees were the capital stock, and committees were appointed to wait upon our merchants and solicit still further subscriptions. There is no doubt that the scheme will be carried through. All the necessary capital not raised here will be furnished from abroad, and in a few weeks at most the bank will be in operation.

OUTH BOSTON, Jan. 13, 1886. The mercury this morning registered 2 degrees below zero. This protracted evere weather is very unusual here, and now that the novelty of it is wearing away it is becoming monotonous. Dan river is frozen over to-day. Ice on the pends is six to eight inches thick, and a splendid crop has been harvested.

FREE BOOKS. I am inclined to the opinion that the majority of the Democrats of this county do not consider free books in public schools practicable at this time, if, indeed, possible. Our people are warm supporters and admirers of the public rec-school system, but they are not demagogues; they do not wish the State to become embarrassed by too much iberality or to labor under a burden that may prove too heavy to be berne, length or Paul C. A distressing accident occurred this morning at the Hayth House, which resulted in the death of a ten-monthsold infant of Mrs. Haymaker, and very nearly caused the burning of the hotel. The bed was on fire and the child was enveloped in the flames. It is thought a spark from

In a short time the fire department was on the steamer and several streams of water were soon pouring into the hold from which the smoke still came. Some of the bales of cotton were taken out. At this hour (2:45) the fire had not been extinguished. The probabilities are that all of the cotton in that hold will have to be taken out. A NEW WORK. FOR SALE, BY THE PUBLISHERS. T WHITTET & SHEPPERSON, Richmond, Virginia. "THE LETTERS AND TIMES OF THE TYLERS." By Lyon Gardiner Tyler. In two volumes. Price $3

N EWSPAPER ADVERTISING.—A book of 100 pages. The best book for an advertiser to consult, be he experienced or otherwise: It contains lists of newspapers and estimates of the cost of advertising. The advertiser who wants to spend one dollar, finds in it the information he requires, while for him who will invest one hundred thousand dollars in advertising, a scheme is indicated which will meet his every requirement, or can be made to do so by slight changes easily arrived at by correspondence. One hundred and fifty-three editions have been issued. Sent, post-paid, to any address for ten cents. Apply to GEORGE P. ROWELL&CO., NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING BUREAU, 10 Spruce street (Printing House Square), New York. Gardiner Tyler. In two volumes. Price 33 per volume.

This work comprises a history of the Union, from the Virginia standpoint, from the Revolution to the war between the States. It comprises many letters of John Tyler, Sr. John Tyler, Abel P. Upshur, Henry A. Wise. Thomas W. Gilmer, James Buchanan, William C. Preston, and other statesmen. Highly complimented by the Reviews.

"Mr. Tyler's recital of the Texan annexation, and the rise, troubles, and decadence of the United States Bank, and its effect upon parties, is most entertaining, while the various letters collected and published for the first time steed a light upon that interesting period of which he writes that has never hitherto been enjoyed." — Washington National Republican.

"The work possesses a great and almost unique interest."—The Nation.
